Office Action Summary

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 3, 23, 25-26, 30-31, and 33-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. In claim 3, line 3, the “to” after “by” is superfluous.
4. Claim 23 is indefinite because it is unclear the phases in pairs of parenthesis are part of limitations.
5. Claims 25 and 34 are indefinite because of the phrase “as well as”.
6. Claim 26 is indefinite because “soft metal” is a relative expression which does not define the metal layer hardness.
7. Claims 30 and 31 are indefinite because said method has no active processing step being recited.
8. Claims 33 and 34 are indefinite because it is unclear that the graphite, oxide, carbide, boride, and/or nitride is mixed with the Cu-Al composite before spray or said compound is sprayed on the Cu-Al composite.
9. Claim 35 is indefinite because the step of roughening a surface is not positively recited in said claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

12. Claims 1-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over USP 5864745 to Kawagoe et al in view of USP 5581799 to Terada et al.

13. The cited reference(s) disclose(s) the features including the flame spraying composite compositions. The features relied upon described above can be found in the reference(s) at: col. 2, lines 20-50 and col. 8, lines 50-60 (composition), Fig. 7 (melted and unmelted Cu), and Fig. 2 (heat treatment after flame spraying). The difference between the reference(s) and the claims are as follows: Kawagoe does not disclose Al is being feed separately. But, feeding Al separately reads on feeding each loose powder element. Terada in col 3, lines 10-44 disclose mixtures of elemental powders can be used for flame spraying. Therefore, it is contemplated within ambit of ordinary skill artisan to use the raw alloy or mixture of elemental powder elements because they are functionally equivalent. Both cited references teach to selectively melt or unmelt alloying elements. Because the melting/unmelting technique is known, thus selecting elements would to melt/unmelt would have been obvious for its properties.

Drawings

14. The drawings are objected to because they are not written in English. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Conclusion

The above rejection relies on the reference(s) for all the teachings expressed in the text(s) of the references and/or one of ordinary skill in the metallurgical art would have reasonably understood or implied from the text(s) of the reference(s). To emphasize certain aspect(s) of the prior art, only specific portion(s) of the text(s) have been pointed out. Each reference as a whole should be reviewed in responding to the rejection, since other sections of the same reference and/or various combination of the cited references may be relied on in future rejection(s) in view of amendment(s).
